Report: International Yoga Day Celebration

On June 21, 2022, Amolakchand Mahavidyalaya, Yavatmal, joined the global celebration of International Yoga Day with great enthusiasm. Approximately 100 students, faculty members, and non-teaching staff came together to participate in the event.

The highlight of the celebration was a demonstration of yoga and asanas by Prof. K.U. Tayade, Director of physical education at the institute. Prof. Tayade not only showcased various yoga postures but also elucidated the significance of yoga and asanas in maintaining physical fitness in everyday life. Through his demonstration and explanation, participants gained insights into how yoga can contribute to their overall well-being.

The event served as an opportunity for the college community to embrace the ancient practice of yoga and recognize its universal appeal in promoting health and harmony. It underscored the importance of incorporating yoga into one's daily routine for a balanced and healthy lifestyle.

The International Yoga Day celebration at Amolakchand Mahavidyalaya fostered a sense of unity and well-being among the participants, reaffirming the timeless relevance of yoga in today's fast-paced world.

- Dr. P. P. Joshi, and Dr. P. N. Muskawar, Shift In-charge (Noon)
- Prof. A. P. Kawale and Dr. S. S. Jadhav

Introduction

The college organized a comprehensive seven-day students induction programme from 17th August to 23rd August 2022, aimed at welcoming and familiarizing newly admitted first-year students with various aspects of higher education, college facilities, and activities. The program was meticulously planned and executed under the guidance of the internal quality assurance cell, led by Prof. D.S. Chavan, Dr. S.S. Jadhav, Dr. R.B. Bhandwalkar, and Prof. A. P. Kawale.

Objectives

The primary objectives of the student's induction programme were to introduce students to the college environment, nurture their personality development, and provide them with essential guidance on academic, social, and personal fronts. Through a diverse range of activities, the program aimed to instil values of gratitude, humanity, and mutual respect while acquainting students with the academic expectations and opportunities available to them.

Program Structure

The student's induction programme comprised various components designed to engage students physically, intellectually, and creatively. These included:

- Physical Activities: Individual and team sports to promote physical well-being and teamwork.
- Guidance Sessions: Addressing students' expectations from society, family, and college, emphasizing values like gratitude and humanity.
- Creative Arts: Activities such as rangoli, poster-making, slogan writing, and storytelling to foster creativity and self-expression.

- Cultural Events: Performances including singing, music, dance, and skits to celebrate diversity and cultural heritage.
- Literary Activities: Encouraging book reading, summary writing, patriotic songwriting, poetry, and essay writing to enhance language skills and critical thinking.
- Lectures and Discussions: Inviting eminent speakers to discuss topics ranging from the merit-based selection system to sustainable development, communication skills, and societal values.
- Field Visits: Exposing students to local areas like parks, markets, farms, and old age homes to broaden their horizons and instil a sense of social responsibility.

Participation and Engagement

The student's induction programme saw enthusiastic participation from 500 students enrolled in BA Part 1, BCom Part 1, and BSc Part 1 courses. Throughout the week, students actively engaged with faculty, staff, and fellow peers, forging connections and gaining insights into the college's academic offerings and support services.

The concluding session of the student's induction programme featured performances by students showcasing various art forms under the guidance of Dr. Anju Fulzele. Dr. R. B. Bhandwalkar, along with Dr. K. Y. Butle, Dr. P. N. Muskawar and Dr. P. P. Joshi, officiated the session, acknowledging the collective effort of faculty, staff, alumni, and senior students in making the program a success.

Acknowledgments

The success of the student's induction programme was made possible by the dedication and hard work of faculty members including Prof. Kamlesh Tumsare, Dr. Ashwin Atkulwar, Dr. Anup Bhat, and Prof. Yashwant Khandare, and others. In students' induction programme, it is recommended to incorporate interactive workshops on study skills, time management, and career planning. Additionally, feedback mechanisms should be established to gather input from students and stakeholders for continuous improvement.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the student's induction programme served as a pivotal platform for welcoming and integrating new students into the academic community while fostering their holistic development. By providing guidance, encouragement, and opportunities for engagement, the program laid a strong foundation for students to embark on their higher education journey with confidence and enthusiasm.
